Climate

Tanzania's climate varies across its regions, influenced by altitude, geography, and proximity to the coast, creating a blend of tropical and temperate conditions. Generally, the country experiences two main seasons: the dry season and the rainy season.

Dry Season (June to October):

The dry season is Tanzania's cooler period, with clear skies and minimal rainfall. Temperatures range from 20°C to 30°C (68°F to 86°F), depending on the region. This is the best time for wildlife viewing, as animals gather around water sources and vegetation is sparse, making them easier to spot.

Short Rains (November to December):

The short rains, known locally as "Vuli," bring light, sporadic showers, primarily in the northern and coastal regions. The landscape transforms into lush greenery, but the rains are brief and often followed by sunshine.

Wet Season (March to May):

The wet season, or "Masika," brings heavy, consistent rains, particularly in the southern and central regions. Temperatures rise, ranging from 25°C to 32°C (77°F to 90°F), with high humidity, especially along the coast. This is a vibrant time for birdwatching, as migratory species thrive, and the landscape is at its most fertile.

Year-Round Coastal Climate:

The coastal areas, including Rufiji, Dar es Salaam, and the Indian Ocean islands, enjoy a humid tropical climate year-round, with temperatures between 25°C and 35°C (77°F to 95°F).

Tanzania's varied climate ensures a dynamic experience throughout the year, from dry, wildlife-rich savannahs to rain-fed green landscapes teeming with life.

standard voltage is 230 volts (V) at 50 hertz (Hz). The most common plug type is the British three-pin socket, but you may also find two-pin European

When planning a trip to Tanzania, it's essential to be aware of the health requirements and recommendations to ensure a safe and healthy visit

Health authorities recommend the following vaccinations for travelers to Tanzania:

- Hepatitis A: Advised for most travelers due to potential exposure through contaminated food or water.
- Typhoid: Recommended for those visiting smaller cities or rural areas where sanitation may be compromised.
- Hepatitis B: Suggested for travelers who might have close contact with locals, require medical procedures, or engage in activities that increase exposure risk.
- Rabies: Considered for those who may have direct contact with animals or are visiting remote areas where medical care is limited.
- Meningitis: Recommended, particularly during the dry season when the risk is higher.
- Measles, Mumps, Rubella (MMR): Ensure vaccinations are current, as outbreaks can occur.
- Tetanus, Diphtheria, Pertussis (Tdap): A booster is advised if not received in the last ten years.
- Polio: An additional adult booster is recommended due to increased global cases
- COVID-19 Guidelines: All travelers entering or transiting through Tanzania must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19. While specific entry requirements may change, it's prudent to carry proof of vaccination and stay informed about the latest guidelines from official sources.

Entry Requirements

To enter Tanzania, ensure your passport is valid for at least six months beyond your stay. Most travelers need a visa, which can be obtained in advance or on arrival.

Insurance

Travelers to Tanzania are strongly advised to secure comprehensive travel insurance that includes the following:

- Medical Coverage: Ensure the policy covers medical treatment, hospitalization, and emergency evacuation, as healthcare facilities outside major cities may be limited.
- Flying Doctor Insurance: This is particularly important in remote areas where medical facilities may be far away. Flying doctor services offer emergency medical evacuation by air, ensuring prompt treatment in case of serious illness or injury.
- Lost or Stolen Items: Coverage for baggage, personal belongings, and important documents like passports.

Hunting in Tanzania

Tanzania is a haven of rich biodiversity, offering diverse wildlife across its northern and southern landscapes. The northern Maasai lands host iconic species like lions, elephants, and the Great Migration of wildebeest and zebras. In the south, areas like Selous and Ruaha boast miombo woodlands, wetlands, and rare species such as wild dogs and sable antelope. From open savannahs to remote wilderness, Tanzania's unmatched ecosystems showcase nature at its finest.

North Tanzania Maasai Land

Simanjiro, nestled in Tanzania's Maasai Steppe, is a premier hunting destination known for its vast wilderness, diverse wildlife, and cultural richness. Home to lions, elephants, and plains game like elands and zebras, it's a haven for big-game enthusiasts. Managed sustainably, the exclusive hunting blocks support conservation and local Maasai communities. Proximity to Tarangire National Park and Arusha ensures easy access, while its golden savannahs and stunning sunsets enhance its appeal. With rich biodiversity and a commitment to sustainability, Simanjiro offers an authentic African hunting experience.

Londorobo Camp

Londorobo Camp, located in the heart of Maasai land in Simanjiro, offers the perfect blend of adventure and comfort. Set within a thriving hunting block, the area attracts abundant wildlife migrating from Tarangire National Park, making it ideal for hunters seeking an authentic bush experience. The camp features six spacious tents, accommodating up to eight guests, ensuring a private and exclusive stay. While its remote location caters to those who enjoy long drives into the wilderness, a private landing strip provides quick access from any international airport in Tanzania. Londorobo Camp promises an unparalleled adventure in the untamed beauty of Simanjiro.

South Tanzania Selous Area

The Rufiji hunting block near the iconic Selous Game Reserve in southern Tanzania is a top hunting destination. Its diverse game includes elephants, lions, leopards, buffalo, and plains species like sable antelope and kudu. The Rufiji River and Selous's proximity enhance wildlife diversity and ensure breathtaking landscapes of miombo woodlands and savannahs. Exclusive concessions offer private, sustainable hunting experiences, while expert guides and comfortable camps cater to all hunters. Revenue supports conservation, anti-poaching, and community development, making Rufiji a choice destination for those seeking an authentic and responsible African hunting adventure.

Ngarambe Camp

Ngarambe Camp, located near Nyerere National Park in Rufiji, is perfect for hunters seeking extreme adventure. Wildlife migrates from the park to the camp's prime hunting block, offering abundant game opportunities.

Accommodating up to six guests, the camp provides an intimate setting and is easily accessible via road transfer from Dar es Salaam or Kilimanjaro International Airport. Ngarambe Camp combines the thrill of the wilderness with convenient access for an unforgettable hunting experience.

Hunting Information

Firearms & Ammunition regulations

We recommend bringing the firearms you are most familiar with for your hunting safari in Tanzania. You are allowed to import up to three firearms for your safari; however, handguns, as well as automatic and semi-automatic weapons, are strictly prohibited.

For dangerous game hunting, we recommend calibers such as .375 H&H Magnum, .416 Rigby, and .470 Express. For plains game hunting, long-range shooting with telescopic sights is advised.

You may import up to 200 cartridges per caliber or gauge, which is more than sufficient for your safari. Please ensure you bring your own ammunition.

When traveling by air, firearms and ammunition must be checked in. Firearms should be securely cased and unloaded, with ammunition packed separately. It is essential to inform your airline in advance that you will be traveling with firearms and ammunition. Each airline has specific regulations regarding weight limits and packaging requirements, so we strongly recommend verifying their policies when booking your flight.

Cites Permit

A CITES permit must be obtained from your country of residence or the country where your trophies will be shipped for the species you intend to hunt.

Please note that Sunset Tarangire Ltd is not responsible for obtaining CITES or any other import permits required for your final destination.

Tanzania Hunting Regulations

The Tanzania Wildlife Department permits the hunting of lions and leopards under the following conditions:

21-Day Safari Permits: -

- 1:1 Guided Hunt – One permit allows the hunting of 1 lion and 1 leopard.*
- 2:1 Guided Hunt – One permit allows the hunting of 1 lion and 1 leopard, which must be shared between both hunters.*

Legal Size Requirements: -

- Leopard: Minimum legal length is 1.5 meters (60 inches) from the tip of the nose to the base of the tail.*
- Crocodile: Minimum legal length is 3 meters (118 inches) from the tip of the nose to the tip of the tail.*

Species Permitted on a 21-Day License: -

Hunters on a 21-day license are permitted to hunt the following species:

Lion, Leopard, Oryx, Greater Kudu, Eland, Gerenuk, Sable, Ostrich, Klipspringer, Hippopotamus, Roan, Lesser Kudu, Dik Dik, and Porcupine.

Booking Conditions

To confirm your safari booking, a 50% deposit of the total safari rate is required.

Please note that Game Trophy Fees and Government Royalties will be charged according to the rates applicable in the year your safari takes place, regardless of the amounts quoted in the initial contract.

All invoices and quotes are subject to change at any time due to adjustments in Government fees, taxes, or Game Trophy Fees, which are beyond our control.

Cancellations

Cancellations made 90 days before the hunt will incur a 20% deduction, while those made 30 days prior will incur a 70% deduction. In cases of Force Majeure—including natural disasters, war, civil unrest, or government intervention, our team may modify or cancel itineraries. Refunds will be provided where possible.

Anti-Poaching

Sunset Tarangire Ltd is dedicated to protecting Tanzania's wildlife through a proactive anti-poaching strategy. Working closely with the Wildlife Management Area (WMA) Anti-Poaching Department, Tanzania Wildlife Management Authority (TAWA), and the Police Tanzania, we combine intelligence, rapid response, and community engagement to combat poaching effectively.

Our Informant Network provides real-time intelligence on potential threats, allowing our ground force to intercept and prevent illegal activities swiftly. Local communities play a key role in our strategy, and we foster strong relationships by supporting infrastructure, employment, and shared responsibility, reducing the incentive for poaching.

During the 2024/2025 season, Sunset Tarangire Ltd made significant strides in its ongoing efforts to combat poaching within our hunting blocks of Irkiushiobor (Maasai Land) and Tapika (Selous Area). Through dedicated patrols and close collaboration with local authorities, our anti-poaching team successfully apprehended over 30 poachers, all of whom are currently in custody awaiting prosecution.

Among the confiscated items were more than seven guns (heavy-caliber firearms) used for illegal hunting activities. Unfortunately, our team also discovered several distressing scenes of wild animals were found dead, others severely injured, and some left to decay deep in the bush. These incidents underscore the brutality of poaching, but also reaffirm our commitment to protecting wildlife and preserving the integrity of Tanzania's natural heritage. Sunset Tarangire Ltd remains fully engaged in strengthening surveillance, intelligence gathering, and rapid response initiatives to ensure our hunting blocks remain safe and ethically managed.

Community Development

Sunset Tarangire Ltd believes that sustainable conservation goes hand in hand with community development. As part of its commitment to social responsibility, the company has undertaken impactful projects to improve local livelihoods.

As part of its ongoing commitment to community development, Sunset Tarangire Ltd has successfully constructed eight modern classrooms at Rufiji Primary School, marking a major milestone in a broader plan to build a total of 20 classrooms. This initiative is designed to create a more conducive and well-equipped learning environment for hundreds of students, significantly reducing overcrowding and improving access to quality education. By investing in infrastructure that supports both academic performance and student well-being, Sunset Tarangire Ltd is investing in the next generation of conservation leaders by offering annual scholarships to two students pursuing studies in wildlife conservation. To date, a total of 12 students have benefited from this initiative, equipping them with the knowledge and skills to protect and preserve Tanzania's natural heritage. This long-term project reflects our dedication to fostering sustainable development and securing a brighter future for the children of Rufiji.

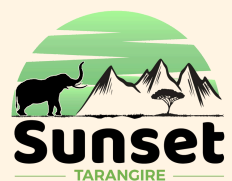

Sunset Tarangire Ltd has made meaningful contributions to community welfare by drilling a total of eight wells, six in the Maasai lands of Simanjiro and two in Rufiji. These wells have significantly improved access to clean and safe water for local communities, helping to alleviate persistent water shortages, promote better hygiene, and enhance the overall quality of life for countless families. By addressing such critical needs, Sunset Tarangire Ltd continues to build strong, positive relationships with the communities it operates in, ensuring that its conservation efforts not only protect the environment but also directly support and uplift the people who share these landscapes.
